Subject: Microsoft settlement

I believe that the microsoft settlement is bad for american business.

I have seen the future of Microsoft operating system software in XP and I do not want it. It is horrid to use. I went out and got a older version of win 98 to replace it.

If Microsoft maintains its freedom to abuse its consumers, my business will suffer. The only real punishment is to break up the company or to require much of the secret stuff in Windows to become public so that the market can punish Microsoft for writing bad, crash prone, stupidly functioning, software. Under the current government proposal, this will not happen.
